About Us

Are you prepared for potentially being displaced due to a natural disaster? If you're not, that's okay. We're here for you. Promise.

The Western Wildfires in Southern California destroyed $18 billion in property, and 54 people died.

Hurricane Irma decimated $50 billion and took the lives of 97 individuals.

Hurricane Harvey ruined $125 billion worth of real estate, and resulted in 89 deaths.

With the recent trend in the volatility of weather in tandem with the current political climate, it's fair game to start prepping for days that you'd hope to never consider to be in the near future.

We don't mean to frighten you with these stats; natural
